5. Unfinished Business- There is no unfinished business.
6. New Business
  - a. Therapy dog

Cpl. Harley Sefcik presented to the Committee a proposal for a Therapy dog. Dally was present as an example therapy dog.

Therapy Dogs have proved useful in many instances such as calming someone with PTSD, detecting if a diabetic is about to have sugar issues, assisting the blind and assisting police departments with critical incidents. After speaking with other handlers from other agencies it has been determined that having a Therapy Dog is beneficial. They can be used for critical situations, which we have had several recently that one could have been used for, community events, such as Beachin' Fridays, National Night Out, school presentations, and visits to assisted living facilities. These Therapy Dogs are good conversation starters between the handler and the public to build bridges for a better relationship with the communities.

The Therapy Dog will be donated, and is bred for this specific job. All equipment for the dog and the vehicle equipment will be donated. Training and certification are free as well as grooming, shots and bedding and other incidentals. Food will be free the first 6 months and after that, donors will pay $25.00 for a monthly bag of dog food. A vet visit 2 times a year for a check-up will be the City's responsibility.

Chairwoman King thanked Cpl. Sefcik for her presentation. Councilman Kraeling said this would be a great program. The dog we will receive is the breeder's first-born female. Chief Miller will decide who will handle the dog.

Motion: Councilman Kraeling made a motion to send this item to Council with Chairwoman King seconding.

Vote: The vote was unanimous (3-0).

- b. Contract Amendment- Last month the guaranteed maximum price was passed through Council. This is to approve the contract as amended.
